10 A MATERIAL GIRL

Carmel Ilan's solo exhibition "Materiality Now" opens at the Raw Art Gallery. In the exhibition, the artist presents a series of photographs of her sculptural creations – objects constructed specifically for this body of work.

Ilan offers a new interpretation of her unique sculpting technique, in which one-of-a-kind sculptural pieces formed from folded, paper-based materials are tightly woven on wooden boards. The photographs are not exact reproductions. Their role is of primary significance: to transform the existing object by means of a metamorphosis, through which a hybrid object is created, one that lies in the intersection between the two media.
